Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From June 13. to June 20. 1734.

Oſtendunt Terris hunc tantum Fata, neque ultra
Eſſe ſinunt.---------- Virgil.

IT has been obſerv'd Sir William Petty in his Political Arithmetick, that one half of Mankind, which are born into this World, die, before they arrive to the age of Sixteen, and that an half of the remaining part never meaſure out the ſhort Term of Thirty Years. That this Obſervation is pretty juſt, every inquiſitive Perſon may be ſatisfied by comparing the ſeveral Bills of Mortality, publiſhed in Europe, for ſome Years paſt; even a curſory View of any common Burial-place may, in a great meaſure evidence the Truth of it.

Many Arguments, to prove a Future State, have been drawn from the unequal Lot of good and bad Men upon Earth, but no one ſeems to carry a greater Degree of Probability in it, than the foregoing Obſervation.--------, To ſee Virtue languiſh and repine, to ſee Vice proſperous and triumphant, to ſee a Dives faring deliciouſly every Day, and rioting in all the Exceſs of Luxury and Wantonneſs; to ſee a Lazarus poor, hungry, naked, and full of Sores, lying at his Door, and denied even the Crumbs that fall from his Table, the Portion of his Dogs, which Dogs are more charitable, more human than their Maſter: Such a View, I confeſs, raiſes in us a violent Preſumption that there is another State of Retribution, where the Juſt and the Unjuſt will be equally puniſhed or rewarded by an impartial Judge. On the other hand, when we reflect on the vaſt Numbers of Infants, that juſt ſtruggle into Life, then weep and die, and at the ſame time conſider, that it can be in no wiſe conſiſtent with the Juſtice and Wiſdom of an infinite Being, to create to no end, we may very reaſonably conclude, that thoſe animated Machines, thoſe Men in miniature, who know no Difference between Good and Evil, who are incapable of any good Offices towards their Fellow-Creatures, or of ſerving their Maker, were made for good and wiſe Deſigns and Purpoſes, which Purpoſes, and Deſigns tranſcend all the Limits of our Ideas and all our preſent Capacities to conceive. Should an able and expert Artificer employ all his Time and his Skill in contriving and framing an exquiſite Piece of Clock-work, which, when he had brought it to the utmoſt Perfection Wit and Art were capable of, and juſt ſet it a-going, he ſhould ſuddenly daſh it to pieces; would not every wiſe Man naturally infer, that his intenſe Application had diſturb'd his Brain and impair'd his Reaſon?

Let us now contemplate the Body of an Infant, that curious Engine of Divine Workmanſhip. What a rich and artful Structure of Fleſh upon the ſolid and well compacted Foundation of Bones! What curious Joints and Hinges, on which the Limbs are moved to and fro! What an inconceivable Variety of Nerves, Veins, Arteries, Fibres and little inviſible parts are found in every Member! What various Fluids, Blood and Juices run thro' and agitate the innumerable ſlender Tubes, the hollow Strings and Strainers of the Body! What millions of folding Doors are fixed within, to ſtop thoſe red or tranſparent Rivulets in their courſe, either to prevent their Return backwards, or elſe as a Means to ſwell the Muſcles and move the Limbs! What endleſs contrivances to ſecure Life, to nouriſh Nature, and to propagate the ſame to future Animals! Can we now imagine after ſuch a Survey, that ſo wiſe, ſo good and merciful a Creator ſhould produce Myriads of ſuch exquiſite Machines to no other End or Purpoſe, but to be depoſited in the dark Chambers of the Grave, where each of the Dead lie in their cold Manſions, in Beds of Darkneſs and Duſt. The Shadows of a long Evening are ſtretch'd over them, the Curtains of a deep Midnight are drawn around them, The Worm lies under them, and the Worm covers them. No! the Notion of Annihilation has in it ſomething ſo ſhocking and abſurd, Reaſon ſhould deſpiſe it; rather let us believe, that when they drop this earthly Vehicle they aſſume an *Æ*therial one, and become the Inhabitants of ſome more glorious Region. May they not help to people that infinite Number of Starry and Planetary Worlds that roll above us: may they not become our better Genii, our Guardian Angels, watch round our Bed and our Couch, direct our wandring Paths thro' the Maze and Labyrinth of Life, and at length conduct us ſafe, even us, who were the Inſtruments of their paſſing thro' this Valley of Sorrow and Death, to a Land of Peace and the Mountains of Paradiſe? ------ But theſe are things that belong to the Provinces of Light and immortality, and lie far beyond our mortal Ken. ------

I was led into this Train of thinking by the Death of a deſireable Child, whoſe Beauty is now turning a pace into Corruption, and all the Lovelineſs of its Countenance fled for ever. Death ſits heavy upon it, and the Sprightlineſs and Vigour of Life is periſhed in every Feature and in every Limb. If the foregoing Reflections ſhould urge any one forward in the Paths of Vertue, or yield any Conſolation to thoſe in the like Circumſtances, and help to divert the Stream of their Sorow into a better Channel, I ſhall hope my Thoughts have been employ'd to good Purpoſe. When Nature gave us Tears, ſhe gave us leave to weep. A long Separation from thoſe who are ſo near a-kin to us in Fleſh and Blood, will touch the Heart in a painful Place, and awaken the tendereſt Springs of Sorrow. The Sluices muſt be allowed to be held open a little; Nature ſeems to demand it as a Debt to Love. When Lazarus died, Jeſus groaned and wept.

I ſhall only add by way of Concluſion an Epitaph upon an Infant: It is taken from a Tombſtone in a little obſcure Village in England, that ſeems to have very little Title to any thing ſo elegantly poetical, which renders it the more remarkable.

Read this and weep------ but not for me;
Lament thy longer Miſery:
My Life was ſhort, my Grief the leſs;
Blame not my Haſt to Happineſs!

London,

London, April 11. On Tuesday last died Mr. Theocharis Dadichi, his Majesty's Interpreter for the Oriental Languages. This Gentleman was born at Aleppo in Syria, and educated at Paris at the Expence of the late French King. By his Travels thro' most Parts of Europe he became acquainted with their several Languages, in the acquiring of which he had a peculiar Felicity. Besides the Arabic (his Native Tongue) and the other Eastern Languages, both Living and Dead, as the Persian, Turkish, Hebrew and Syriac, he had attain'd a masterly Skill in the Greek and Latin, as also in the Italian, Spanish and French, all which Tongues he spoke to a surprising Perfection; and during his Residence here, he had made himself sufficiently Master of the English to read our most difficult Authors, and to speak it better than most Foreigners. He was a Person of such uncommon Learning, join'd with so great Probity, Modesty and Humanity, that his Death is scarce reparable to the Publick, and infinitely regretted by all who had the Pleasure of knowing him.

April 13. Thursday Night some Persons assembled in several Parts of this City, and made Bonfires, in Commemoration of the Day the Excise Bill was thrown out of the House of Commons, and oblig'd House-keepers to illuminate their Windows with Candles, and those that refused had their Windows broke, in particular the Lord Mayor's, in Cheapside, and several others; upon which, Word, was sent to Haberdashers Hall to acquaint his Lordship of it. Accordingly he, with the City Marshal, Sword and Mace-Bearer, and his Officers, set out in order to appease the Mob; but they grew more outrageous than before: For they beat his Lordship's Officers, the Constables that attended him, and insulted his Lordship. Several of them were apprehended, one committed to Newgate, and some to the Compter, for farther Examination.

Last Thursday being Maundy Thursday, the Rev. Dr. Gilbert, Dean of Exeter, and Sub-Almoner to his Majesty preach'd at Whitehall Chapel; and afterwards, being girt about with Linnen according to Custom, wash'd the Feet of 51 poor decay'd House-keepers, and distributed his Majesty's Royal Bounty, which was, to each Person a Piece of Linnen, with Shoes and Stockings, &c. Also every one a Leather Purse, containing one Shilling, and as many Silver Pence and Two-Pences as his Majesty is Years old: He afterwards divided Fish and Loaves to each of them in Wooden Platters; and the Ceremony concluded with an Anthem perform'd Vocally and Instrumentally by the Gentlemen of his Majesty's Chappel.

We hear from Nottingham, of a young Woman living seven Miles from thence, who is above seven Foot tall, and proportionably large, tho' but 24 Years old; and that great Numbers of People went out of Curiosity, from all Parts, to see her.

Dr. Lamb, the Queen's Corn-cutter, died a few Day since, reputed very rich.

Amsterdam, April 2. 'Tis advised from Ratisbon of the 25th, That on the 22d the grand Affair of settling the Contingent of Troops which each is to furnish the Emperor, was entirely finished on the Foot of the former War, viz. 120,000 Men for the Army on the Rhine, where Prince Eugene is soon expected, but comes by way of Berlin, to negociate an Affair of great Importance there.

April 9. Letters from Italy advise, That a Body of Imperial Troops had entred the Ecclesiastical State, and carried off 600 Measures of Corn, and a Quantity of Wine, provided for the Spanish Troops: That the Spanish Army continued its March to Naples, and a Spanish Squadron was arrived at Civita Vecchia with Ammunition, &c. for their Troops; and that 2000 Imperialists from Trieste were arrived at Manfridonia.

Frankfort, April 4. We have received Advice, That the Marshal Duke of Berwick is arriv'd on the Rhine, to assemble his Army, in order to open the Campaign.

Calais, April 11. This Town is now full of Troops; they arrive daily and embark almost as fast. One Batallion embark'd on Friday, another Yesterday, thirteen more are expected, and Ships are order'd here from other Parts of the Kingdom, to transport them, as we believe, for the Relief of Dantzick.

Vienna, March 10. The Court has received an Express confirming the March of the Spanish Army to Naples. This Express has also brought News of the Vice-Roy being dangerously ill. Although the Imperial Troops in the Kingdom of Naples are not numerous enough to make Head against the Spaniards, yet 'tis believed the latter will find it difficult to succeed in that Enterprize, unless the Inhabitants declare for them: Mean time 'tis reported, that the Prince of Wirtemburg is marched from Mantua, with some Troops to succour the Kingdom of Naples.

Paris, April 9. The Court seems in no great Pain about the Affairs of King Stanislaus. We are taught to believe that before the Arrival of our Troops Matters will bear quite another Face in that Kingdom; though it is generally observed, the Soldiery, by no Means like the Expedition. The King's Field Equipage is actually ready, and it is whispered about with great Confidenee, that his Majesty will take a Trip to his Army on the Rhine when least expected. Accounts from every Port of the Kingdom visibly denote the Resolutions of this Court, to exert itself with the utmost Vigour this Summer by Sea as well as Land.

London, Feb. 26. This Day the Lords order'd to address His Majesty for an Account of what Men, Ships, or Stores have been sent from Great-Britain to the Plantations in America, for their Defence, since the Year 1720, and deferred the Stock-jobbing Bill to Thursday.

Rome, March 17. A Courier arrived at the Secretary of State's Office dispatched by Cardinal Aldobrandini, Legate of Ferrara, and of a sudden it was reported, that the Germans had demanded Passage for 10,000 Troops thro' the Ecclesiastical State, from that Side, to go to the Succour of the Kingdom of Naples; these must be Troops embark'd from Thieste, on the other side of the Adriatick Gulph. Thus the whole State of the Church is now filled with the Sons of Thunder, so that it may truly be said to be a Church Militant.

Dublin, March 26. On the 23d of Feb. last John Holms of Baltimore, kill'd a Sow with Pig; as he opened her a monstrous Composition fell out of her Body, join'd together with seven Heads, some of them having small Bodies and Limbs annexed to them; one Head resembled a Grey-Hound's, one a Lamb's, one a Pig's with Teeth and Hair, one a Cat's, and the other three Calves Heads. She had likewise seven young Pigs in her. 'Tis now preserved, and will be shewn in this City as the Wonder of the Age.

Dantzick, April 1. N. S. The Russians have made several Attacks upon our Works, but were beat off with Loss, particularly at the Reboubt called Stockholm where they left 5 or 600 Men behind, and several Officers; so that our Communication with the Sea is open again, though we are shut in by Land.

London, April 16. The Master of a Ship from Norway reports, That on Tuesday last he met a large Squadron of Men of War, and a number of Transports (suppos'd to be French) near the Sound, Steering their Course to the Baltick.

We are credibly inform'd, that the report of the French the Spanish and Sardinian Ministers being recall'd, is without Foundation.

On Saturday Morning died at Dartford in Kent, Capt. Howard an old Commander belonging to the Navy, and Capt. of the Yarmouth a Third Rate of 70 Guns, during the late Wars with France.

On Saturday last died in an advanced Age at Hampton in Surrey, Capt. Whitfield, an old experienced Officer in the Army, said to have died worth 20,000.

Monday next is fix'd for the departure of the Prince and Princess of Orange, for Holland; their Highnesses will embark on board the Fubs Yatcht, and their Retinue on board the Mary, William and Mary, and Charlotte.

The French and Spanish Ambassador have hired Houses at Richmond for the Summer Season.

Joshua Ward, Esq; who has resided many Years at Paris, where he was known by the Name of the Father of the poor, was introduced last Week to kiss the Hands of their Majesties and the Royal Family, who receiv'd him graciously.

On Sunday last Sir Charles Wager acquainted their Majesties, that the Squadron in the Downs consisting of 20 Ships of the Line, was compleatly Victual'd and Mann'd, and ready to put to Sea upon the first Notice.

The Emperor's Affairs in Naples have a bad Aspect, several Places having sent Deputies to Don Carlos with their Submission, and the Spanish Squadron on the Coast received with great Marks of Joy.

The Russians push on the Siege of Dantzick with such Success, that 'tis judged they will take it before any Relief can can come from France On the other hand, according to ſome Accounts, the Polanders have attacked and taken Cracow, and made moſt of the Garriſon Priſoners of War.

They write from France that 2000 Dragoons are order'd to be pick'd out of his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty's Troops, who are each to take a Grenadier behind him, and proceed with all Speed on ſome private Expedition.

The Fleet of that Nation, which is now, or has been lately epuipping at Breſt, conſiſts of 20 Men of War, three of 74 Guns, one of 72, one of 66, five of 50, and one of 26. There are, beſides all theſe, ſeveral fitting out at Port-Lewis and Rochfort, and 12 at Toulon, for a Mediterranean Squadron.

SUPERFINE CROWN SOAP.

IT cleanses fine Linens, Muslins, Laces, Chinces, Cambricks, &c. with Ease and Expedition, which often suffer more from the long and hard Rubbing of the Washer, through the ill Qualities of the Soap they use, than the Wearing. It is excellent for the Washing of Scarlets, or any other bright and curious Colours, that are apt to change by the Use of common Soap. The Sweetness of the Flavor and the fine Lather it immediately produces, renders it pleasant for the Use of Barbers. It is cut in exact and equal Cakes, neatly put up, and sold at the New Printing-Office, at 1 s. per Cake.

ON the Twenty-eighth of August next ensuing, there is to be sold by Way of Auction or Vendue, the Lands or Plantation of Major Porter, commonly called Portersfield, containing 1800 Acres of Land and Meadow; lying in the County of Gloucester, in the Province of West New-Jersey, nigh Philadelphia. The highest Bidder to be the Buyer, giving good Security to the Executors
